THIEVES GET HAUL FROM VESSEL

Many Articles Taken From the Schooner Charles E. Wyman at Clarke's Wharf.

That the three-masted schooner Charles E. Wyman, which has been tied up at Clark's wharf, off Water street, for several weeks, has evidently been visited by thieves, was discovered by Capt. J. H. Thuyer, who arrived here a few days ago to sail with the vessel.

The schooner had been at this port about ten weeks while waiting for a cargo. Evidently some unknown persons broke into the galley of the vessel and helped themselves from the stores. Among the articles missing are two pairs of valuable field glasses, an unopened half barrel of flour, one bushel yellow-eyed beans, packages of spices and other articles of the ship's stores. Proceeding aft one of the heavy glass port holes was evidently broken open and other small articles were found missing.

It is thought the intruders may have been boys as some of the groceries taken from the ship's stores were thrown about the vessel with the only purpose evidently to waste and make havoc. The case was reported to the police and it is hoped the guilty parties will be discovered and receive the punishment they deserve.

The schooner has sailed for Rockport with a load of paving stone and will soon return to this port with a cargo of coal.

MITZI, America's foremost prima donna comedienne, star of Henry W. Savage's new play with music "Head Over Heels" at Tremont Theatre.

MITZI IN "HEAD OVER HEELS"

Back to the good old days of summer opera in Boston. Henry W. Savage, who has more musical comedy successes to his credit than any other producer, is the good fairy who turns the pages backward over the last few years and inaugurates a summer season of musical comedy at the Tremont Theatre.

It is fitting that Mr. Savage should be the one producer to do this for there has been nothing given theatre and music lovers to efface the delightful memories of his artistic "Prince of Pilsen," "King Dodo" and "Woodland" when they reigned at the Tremont Theatre during the summer seasons a few years ago.

The keenest interest is displayed in the announcement that Mr. Savage will offer "the only Mitzi" in a new play with music entitled "Head Over Heels" at the Tremont Theatre Saturday evening, May 25th. Mitzi is considered America's foremost prima donna comedienne today and is the only player that Mr. Savage has elevated to stardom during his theatrical career.

"Head Over Heels" is the romance of a little girl acrobat, who comes to America with her "brothers and sisters" of the troupe. Head over heels in mischief, in business and in love, each in its turn and each most energetically, is Mitzi as the whimsical child star.

Mr. Savage again has chosen distinct "types" for the characters in the cast and among the players are many names famous in their work. Jerome Kern, the composer of the world-known comedy successes, "Oh Boy!" with its song "Tulip Time," "Very Good Eddie" and "Have a Heart," has given to lovers of light opera his best work in "Head Over Heels" with its song hits and dance numbers that will linger long in the memory.

Book and lyrics are by Edgar Allen Woolf, who has collaborated with Jerome Kern in several recent successes. It is suggested by the story "Shadows by Nalbro Bartley. The piece is staged by George Marion, the master of stage craft. The Savage Opera Orchestra will be part of the lavish presentation which includes a troupe of acrobats.

A special feature in connection with the Tremont Summer Opera Season and one that will strongly appeal to out-of-town patrons is the big popular priced matinees to be given Wednesdays and on Decoration Day when the best seats will be offered for $1.00 and the second balcony prices will be 25 cent.

Mr. Savage is desirous of making the Tremont the magnet this summer for out-of-town theatre and music lovers as in the old days when a visiting day in Boston was planned for with the afternoon at the matinee, therefore his unusual offer of a production like "Head Over Heels" headed by a star like the incomparable Mitzi at such Wednesday matinee prices.

A Hint to Dr. Myers

(From the Baptist Standard)

The story of the recent Baptist tempest in Boston, as related in the Boston Evening Transcript is given elsewhere in this issue. The original resolution as given by Doctor Myers, the pastor of Tremont Temple, is as follows:

Whereas, a certain Baptist pulpit in this city has been supplied by a Unitarian minister, we regret exceedingly that this should have happened. We therefore resolve than any Baptist minister who shall in the future have such a supply in the pulpit shall immediately and permanently be expelled from the conference.

Comment upon such a resolution is hardly necessary. We simply wish to point out that Doctor Myers, if he is consistent, will in the future shut out the Unitarians from hiring Tremont Temple. As is well known, the Tremont Temple auditorium is the most available large hall in the centre of Boston and high-class entertainments and various conventions find it worth while to meet there, making it a source of considerable income. For several years the Unitarian anniversaries in May have been held in Tremont Temple. While it is true that the Baptist corporation holding the property is not the Tremont Temple Church, nevertheless it is true that a certain amount of Unitarian money has helped to pay the debt on the Tremont Temple building and that indirectly the church is benefited thereby. We have no doubt that in the future this will be rectified.

PROTEST SHOE ORDER IN HAVERHILL

Haverhill, May 28.—Major Leslie K. Morse and 20 shoe manufacturers of this city left Monday night for Washington, where they will protest against the curtailment of the shoe industry. The government has proposed a plan to stop the manufacture of turned shoes during the war, claiming it is not essential. Bank officials as well as the manufacturers ar concerned over the outlook.

Eighty-four Haverhill shoe factories pay their employes $120,000 per week. Of the 15,000 shoe operatives in Haverhill, 9000 are employed directly on turned shoes.

Every department in the 84 factories will be affected if the proposed curtailment in the manufacture of turned shoes is made effective. George W. Dobbins, president, and Albor M. Child, secretary of the Haverhill Shoe Manufacturers' Association, made the trip. Every large factory here will be represented at Washington when the hearing is opened there today. William Dodge of Dodge Bros., Newburyport, and Clarence M. Collins of Danville, N. H., made the trip with the Haverhill group. The manufacture of turned shoes is practically the only industry in Danville.

THE OLD LADY TALKS

(By Edith Bernard Delano of The Vigilantes)

On Cripples and Conquerors

The Old Lady had been to hear a visiting Red Cross speaker; when she came in, she sat down in the chair near the door and looked at her daughter-in-law. Tears were in her eyes and her lips were trembling. Mrs. William spoke.

"Why, Mother," she said, "what's the matter? Which is it this time, joy or disaster?"

The Old Lady smiled through her tears. "It's joy," said she. "I've been getting a little glimpse of salvation, and it—it kinder shakes me, just at first! I want to stand up and shout the news of it up and down the land, or sing it in words that would go down through the ages like the words old Simeon said! But I'm just an old woman, and all I can do is to cry for gladness!"

Mary's eyes filled, too at the sight of the Old Lady's emotion. "It must be mighty good news, Mother!" she said.

"Child, you don't know how good! You can't! You're too young even if you have got a boy over there in the trenches. It takes o'd folks like me, that can remember! It takes old folks like me that have seen all the courage and the light and the gladness of being alive taken out o' folks; and I've seen worse than that, too—suffering that was willing to starve and go cold rather than come to what it thought was shame—the shame of being a burden to others; and I've seen kindness and charity that was all right for them that gave, but just poisonous to the souls of them that took it. I been thinking more'n a little about what would happen when the boys came home from this war without hands and without feet, and blinded. I been picturing to myself how the women folks would be that glad to have 'em back again in any way that they'd slave for them and pet them up and do everything for 'em except help 'em to be men. I can remember how things were after the Civil War, Mary; oh, I can remember—many a tale could I tell about that! Well, I saw the Clapp boy made into a man after being made into a soldier: I know there's thousands like him. And I been worrying and laying awake thinking what was to become of all those fine boys when they come home maimed and crippled. And Mary—

"Mary! What you think I heard [illegible] day? There's folks beside [illegible] have given [illegible] ready fo[illegible] maimed and the crippled and the blinded! No charity, no being burdens for OUR boys, when this w[illegible] von! They're going to give 'em [illegible] made of wood and wire and what not that'll do anything the average hand can do; and feet they can walk wi[illegible] and teach them trades [illegible] read even [illegible] are blind [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] will then [illegible] he loves best off [illegible] taught [illegible] no matter how crippled you'd thought he was! Oh, it's the most wonderful thing I ever knew of, Mary!

"I been thinking what it'll mean to folks all over the country when they hear this good news! What will it mean to a mother, say, whose son wasn't so awful much of a worker, maybe, and who has lost a leg or a hand in the war, to have the boy come home not a cripple, not a care, not a poor discouraged piece of a man, but full of interest in the thing he has been taught how to do, knowing himself capable of earning a living and having as good a life as any other man, and with all that wonderful army training in doing good for others and keeping clean and being good-natured when things go wrong, and all that? What'll it mean to the mothers and the wives and the sweethearts?

"You remember how God blessed Abraham, because he was willing to make the greatest sacrifice he could think of? Well, it came to me as I was walking home that something like that has come to pass now! Our boys have gone over there willing to make the greatest sacrifice they can think of, just for what they think is right, an for what will benefit them. Some of them will be permitted to make it. Some will be brought back from the altar like Isaac was. But they'll be blessed. God spake to Abraham through the angel, and He's speaking now through men and women; and I think what He's saying must be something like this: 'You have offered me your bodies for your souls' sakes: I will provide ways through which your souls shall conquer your bodies. You shall not be cripples, but—conquerors!"

FIFTEEN MEN TO GO SATURDAY

The Local War Board has called the following men, who will be sent to Fort Slocum on June 1. The men will report here on Friday and leave on Saturday morning. Ralph Gove has volunteered to go with this contingent.

Only one man is from this city, the call taking men from outside of the city but in the district. This is not strange as in a recent call of a like number all were from this city.

This leaves but thirty-five men left in class one who are not on the emergency fleet or farmers.

Boston, Mass., May 27—As a result of a conference held in Philadelphia with New England Fuel Administrator James J. Storrow, the anthracite committee of the United States Fuel Administration announces that there will be at least 1,250,000 tons of anthracite shipped into New England during the month of June. This tonnage should greatly aid the situation. An official statement issued to anthracite producers and distributors and signed by William T. Grier, secretary of the committee, says:

"Shipments into New England are not going forwar, either by rail or water, as rapidly as the committee expected would be in accordance with former requests.

"The committee has agreed that for the month of June tonnage amounting to one-twelfth of the shipments into New England during the coal year beginning April 1, 1916, plus fifty per cent. shall be sent forward. This tonnage should amount to at least 1,250,000 tons.

"Particular attention must be given to the water r oute. All vessels and barges must be promptly loaded on arrival at loading dock, also mines must have sufficient orders at all times for tidewater as will insure sufficient coal being on hand and in transit to take care of vessels promptly."

BOMBING GERMAN TOWNS

SEVENTY-SIXTH DIVISION NOW READY

Camp Devens, Ayer, May 27—With the transfer within a day or two of a few hundred men from the Depot Brigade to several units of the 76th Division, which are ordered, the latter organizations will have attained the long anticipated status of full war strength, and be prepared to take up its final training on that basis.

Most of the important organizations are already recruiting to the required limit while one or two of them are over-manned. The 201st Engineers is one of the latter and a "weeding out" of about two hundred men will be necessary. Some time since a contingent of several hundred selectives was sent to the regiment for emergncy purposes. Many of these have been found either unfit physically or not qualified for the sort of service required and they will be reassigned to the depot brigade from which they came.

The same general conditions prevail in other organizations and the changes to be made are in furtherance of the adopted policy of making each divisional unit one of specialists in the particular service required.

All infantry regiments of the cantonement are being supplied with the new Remington-Enfield rifles in place of the Winchester-Enfield, with which they were equipped last winter. The reason for the change is an improvement [illegible] advisable by the Government. By means of it the range of the gun may be reduced [illegible] in place of the one hundred possible with the Winchester model. This means the recalling of 17,000 rifles, which will eventually be turned back to the concern which made them for remodelling to the new standard.

Browning Guns Still Unused

The water cooled Browning machine guns, which arrived here more than a fortnight ago, are still in the packing cases awaiting the appearance of an expert from the factory, who is to act as demonstrator. Considerable impatience at the delay is expressed by ordnance officers here, in view of the urgent need of the guns for practice, and the further fact that there are probably a dozen men in the Ordnance Department who have taken the same factory experience as the expert referred to and who are considered quite as competent to act as demonstrators of the new machines.

LOST FOR THREE DAYS IN WOODS

St. Paul, Minn., May 28—With water only a few feet away, so close he could hear its trickle, and with leaves he raked up around him for his only covering, A. L. Smith, aged forty three, was "lost in the woods" for three days and nights and lay in a clump of bushes suffering with paralysis and without food or water until found by a patrolman.

Smith's story combined the hardships of the man lost in the woods and the aimless wanderer in the desert and all the time within a few blocks street cars were passing and hundreds of persons were coming and going, unconscious that almost in hailing distance a man was struggling desperately for his life.

Smith wandered away from a grading camp where he was employed and lost his way in the woods. He said he thought it a joke at first, until he passed nearly all of one day trying to find a small creek he knew ran through the woods toward the grading camp. He believes he walked in circles until dark, finding neither the creek nor an opening from the woods.

EGYPT NOW LINKED WITH PALESTINE

"Egypt and Palestine are now as closely linked as in the days of the Roman Empire," writes a correspondent with the British Army in Palestine in a letter to the Provisional Zionist Committee.

"The broad gauge railway has been brought up from Gaza to a point close to the front line, a distance of about fifty miles. The old Turkish line from Ludd to Jerusalem and the more recent military branch line from Gaza to Surar Junction have been restored and brought into use.

"The communications along the front lines, which are constantly expanding, stretching now across the whole breadth of Palestine from the Mediterranean Sea to the Dead Sea, have been firmly established and will move forward with as certain a direction and as ample a purpose as when we advanced last autumn on Beersheba and Gaza.

"Constant intercourse for several months between the British officers and the Jewish population has laid the foundations not only of a good understanding but even of genuine friendship."

HUN CAPTORS CUT OUT HIS TONGUE

Auburn, Neb., May 28—Just before Dr. Wikle, a well known physician of this city, went to war he told relatives that if he was ever captured by the Germans he would communicate with them and that they must look under the postage stamp to get the real conditions if harm befell him.

A few days ago the family received a letter from him, written from a German prison camp. It was the stereotyped message, saying he was well, etc. Much of it was deleted by the censor.

The letter was laid aside until some one remembered what the doctor had said about a message under the stamp. The stamp was carefully removed. Under it he had written these words:

"They have cut out my tongue."

FAMILY HAS SERVED IN SIX WARS

St. Louis, Mo., May 28—When F. Levi Dees, aged fifty, enlisted recently in the Engineering Corps in St. Louis, a record of 140 years was perfected, a member of the Dees family having served in every one of the six wars in which the United States has participated.

His great-grandfather served in the Revolution, furnishing his own rifle, clothing, etc. His father, Justice J. H. Dees of Edwardsville enlisted for the Civil War, at the age of fourteen.

Levi Dees is an expert engineer, and his age, which in other branches would be considered a drawback, was regarded as an asset. After passing the examination he was shipped to Wilmington, Del.

The Propriety of Tobacco Rations.

Tobacco users and the people generally—and, so far as the male part of the population is concerned, the people generally are tobacco users—will be glad to know that the government has decided to make tobacco a part of the soldiers' rations and will hereafter supply it as regularly as the provisions which they eat. This step was taken on the recommendation of General Pershing, who knows what he is doing all the time, and who made the recommendation only after he had clearly sensed an actual need.

To men who use tobacco it is an actual need, and there are few men in the army and navy who do not use it, even if they never used it before. There is a comfort and a solace in "the weed" such as is to be drawn from no other source. It is right that the men who are fighting the country's battles should have it, and not as a charity, but as a matter of right.

Since the United States entered the war numerous newspapers and organizations have been soliciting contributions to tobacco funds for the soldiers and there have been generous responses. But that is not the right way to supply this need. The right way is for the government to do it as it is now going to do. This will insure an adequate supply regularly delivered and distributed, for the tobacco rations will be distributed as regularly as other rations, wherever the men may happen to be. The tobacco supply will no longer be a matter of luck and chance, and the quality will be as reliable and agreeable as the service will be regular.

The boys in the ranks will be happier and healthier because of this wise and proper move on the part of the government. They have complained bitterly of the quality of the foreign tobacco they have been obliged to use, and regular supplies of the right stuff from home will add immeasurably to their comfort and contentment.

All of which may be truthfully said notwithstanding the conviction of some good people that the use of tobacco is invariably harmful. Despite the sincerity of this belief experience proves that it is not well founded. Many of the healthiest men are liberal users of tobacco, and especially is it desired by men enduring physical hardships. A chew or a smoke to the man whose muscles are aching or who by any means has been robbed of the requisite amount of sleep comes as a veritable god-send, as every tobacco user knows who has ever been under physical, or even mental, strain.

For these reasons the government does well in providing its defenders with what is to be legitimately regarded as a prime necessity. It is a step that will be appreciated by the great majority of the men in the service, and it is far better that the bill should be met by the government than that the need should be inadequately supplied by incessant solicitations and passing of the hat.

A lot of foreigners in a New England city who have been quarreling for years, sometimes with fatal results, have evidently concluded that one war at a time is enough. They got together the other day, buried the hatchet, bought a lot of Liberty bonds and had an Oriental dinner and a dance. It was a good job.

There is room for improvement on the Boston and Maine railroad, and the people of New Hampshire will be glad to know that betterments are to be made with the road's share of the government's $28,000,000 appropriation for railroad improvements in different parts of the country.

The sending into this country by Germany of a large stock of Mauser rifles proves to be a myth, just as this paper suggested it would when the foolish story was made public. While the country is suffering from many "shortages" it still has a large surplus stock of hysteria.

There is going to be some good sport on the fair grounds Memorial Day. The horsemen of Portsmouth and vicinity have said it and they will be there with "the goods." And without doubt there will be a large gathering to watch and enjoy the sport.

A Dover baker's contribution of $250 to the Red Cross fund was generous, but it would have been more creditable if it had been made voluntarily rather than as an alternative to having his license revoked for violation of the food regulations.

It is reported that Germany intends to make Russia virtually a colony. Well, it would make a mighty good sized one. And this seems to be about the only possibility left to Russia for going from bad to worse.

An anti-loafing law will go into effect in New York state June 1. In imagination, and thus only, we can already see men who never did a day's work in their lives "going to it."

Hoe Away, Mr. Hughes!

The promptness with which Mr. Hughes has gone to work on the airplane fungle reminds one of the way in which he got results in New York investigations, by prompt and patient digging. There is plenty of turf to turn where he now toils.

Let Us Visualize This War

(From the New York Commercial)

Horrible as are the stories of German outrages in territories in their hands, the public should read them so that the reasons for fighting this war to a finish may be kept constantly in mind to counteract the peace drives of our barbarous foes. The Germans are worse than the Turks. They glory in their shame and they furnish proofs of their barbarities by driving women whom they have outraged back across the lines or into Switzerland for the express purpose of terrorizing their foes with the threat of consistent repetitions of such unspeakable barbarities wherever they advance. The fate of French and Belgian women and children turned back as living witnesses of what war means, will be the portion of English and Americans if we do not stop them in France and Italy.

Terrorism is the only object of the bombardment of Paris and the air raids on London. By it the Kaiser secures concessions from small neighboring neutrals. By it he hopes to terrify America. His fiendish policy justifies reprisals in kind such as the bombing of German cities. Nothing short of a victor's peace and the overthrow of autocracy in Central Europe will secure the world against a repetition of such horrors.

Battle Ships and Battle Cruisers

(From the New York Herald)

Now that the Senate Naval bill is available for examination and study the conclusion is reached that the liberality and intelligence shown in the bill sent up from the House have been matched and that a spirit of the truest patriotism has been brought to the consideration of naval needs and responsibilities. The amendments by the Senate committee are few in number but worthy of acceptance when, should they be accepted by the Senate, the measure goes to conference. In particular one under the "Item of Naval Increase" is of an especial importance. It provides that the battle ships, battle cruisers and other vessels authorized in the three year programme of August, 1916, on which work has not been begun, shall be laid down as soon as practicable, but certainly not later than June 30, 1919.

This in turn upon the completion of all the capital ships ordered by the 1916 act will be hailed with general satisfaction, for the country in its awakening to the meaning of naval preparedness recognizes that certain deficiencies in the war balance of our fleet must be satisfied and that, in quality and quantity, this country must assume its proper rank in the hierarchy of sea power. It is, of course, recognized that the intervening delays were unavoidable because destroyers and other craft required to convoy vessels across and to assist in hunting down enemy submarines had to be provided. This work, owing to increased and increasing facilities for shipbuilding, is now well in hand and the critical season has arrived when energy must be centred on the primary elements of the fleet.

A Story of Crucifixion

(From a Chicago special to the New York Times)

Corporal James Irving Parker of Chicago, who recently returned from the western front, where he drove an ammunition truck for the French army, but who now is an enlisted man in the United States Signal Corps, relates a story of German atrocities culminating in the crucifixion of fifteen Canadian soldiers.

"We were moving forward in the Chemin des Dames drive last October on the heels of the fleeing Huns," says Corporal Parker. "A crowd of truck drivers was billeted for a few hours' sleep in one of the French chateaus which the Huns, in their flight, had failed to destroy.

"'We were congratulating ourselves on the excellence of our quarters when a pollu appeared and said in broken English 'Americans, come with me.' We followed him up a broad, winding staircase and entered a room that must have been thirty feet square. On the walls of that room hung crucified Canadian soldiers. Five hung on each of three of the walls.

"Four spikes to a man were used in the crucifixion, one through each wrist and one through each ankle. The victims were thirteen privates and two officers, all in full uniform. There were no wounds on the bodies of the men other than those made by the spikes."

A Canadian regiment had been placed at this point of the Chemin des Dames sector about two weeks before to relieve the war-worn poilus, Corporal Parker explained, and a few days before the drive thirty of them had mysteriously disappeared.

Parker, who is home on two months leave after being gassed, is the son of James J. Parker, a real estate broker at 69 West Washington street.

Shall the Kaiser Go to Congress?

(From the Philadelphia Public Ledger)

Bernstorff imposed so impudently upon the good nature of the American people that there would be no difficulty in believing that he would run for Congress if that were physically or politically possible. In his unavoidable and unregretted absence, however, he is thinking of running a few representatives of himself, of his policies and of his Kaiser whom he left on the job when he was kicked off the North American continent. And what is more damnable and dangerous—he expects to get them elected. Think of it!—PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVES OF THE KAISER ELECTED to CONGRESS! We shall do more than think of it—we will see it if we do not take careful and early precautions to prevent it.

What is Bernstorff calculating on?

The incurable partyism of some American people. Even the crash, the slaughter, the menacing peril of a great war, with its millions of dead and its imminent threat against the life and liberties of the American nation, have not been able to eradicate the poison of petty partisanship from our nature. It is of too long standing—it is too deeply ingrained—it combines all our love of sport, our lust of conflict, our perverted patriotism and even a sort of diverted religious devotion. When it once gets thoroughly awakened, we see red—or, rather, we do not see at all. What the Kaiser and his man Friday are calculating upon is that when we are caught in the full swirl of our congressional elections, with our party passions at a white heat, we will "strafe" the other political party so hard that we will be utterly unable to unite to keep a Kaiser candidate from slipping in between the two embattled party candidates.

Unpleasant But Unavoidable

(From the Detroit Free Press)

An increase in freight and passenger railroad rates will be unwelcome to the general public, but there seems to be no doubt about the necessity for it. Leaving out of consideration the debatable question of the efficiency and economy of Government management, there are plenty of clearly unavoidable conditions making for material rise in the cost of operation. The high price of steel and other construction material, and of fuel, the boosts in the wage scale past and to come, the imperative call for more ample facilities all demand a growth of income if American transportation systems are to be self-sustaining.

Another factor entering into the situation is the starved condition of some of the transportation systems. When the Government took them over the roads had been suffering for a considerable time as a result of oversovere regulation. Many of them were extremely anemic, and in need of tonic. Others were in collapse. A great deal of money is required to remedy this condition.

Necessary income may be secured either by taxation of the country at large or by taxation of those who do business with the railroads. The latter procedure is the more equitable, more logical, and less irritating one.

The Only Right Peace

(From the Baltimore American)

Germany calls its peace with Roumania a victor's peace. And that is the only kind of peace which Germany is really after, and which will never be made with her by the Allies. The peace which she will finally sign with them will be with them as the victors dictating its terms.

The Promise of a Kaiser-King

(From the New York World)

The word of a king is sacred—except when he promises an extension of political rights. Last July Wilhelm promised the Prussian people equal manhood suffrage as a reward for pouring out their blood on western battlefields. The Prussian Diet has refused by a vote of 236 to 185 to restore equal suffrage to the electoral reform bill, from which it had been cut by the committee. And the Kaiser-King is silent.

WILL REBUILD BRIDGE OVER YORK RIVER

Sewall's Bridge Ordered Rebuilt by Maine Public Utilities Commission Before July 1.

The draw-span of Sewall's bridge over the York River, said to be the oldest pile bridge in America, has been ordered rebuilt by the Maine Public Utilities Commission. This bridge has been in bad condition for some time, and has become unsafe for highway traffic as well as that of the Portsmouth, Dover and York Street Railway whose tracks cross it.

In such rebuilding any materials now in the draw which are suitable may be used. The materials and labor are to be furnished by the Portsmouth, Dover & York Street Railway, and the rebuilding is to be accomplished on or before July 1, 1918, to the satisfaction of this commission, and until said rebuilding is completed, no car of the street railway is to go over the draw.

The order of the public utilities commission states that the expense of re-building is to be shared equally by the Portsmouth, Dover & York street railway and the town of York, the latter to pay its share to the railway after the accounts therefor are audited and approved by this commission, and the Portsmouth, Dover & York street railway is directed to report to this commission when such re-building is completed in order that inspection, approval (or disapproval) and permit to operate over the rebuilt span may be had.

LOCAL BOY ON DARTMOUTH NINE

Earl H. Bruce on Trip With Team Which Will Play Brown University.

Earl H. Bruce of this city, Dartmouth College, class of '20, left Monday afternoon with the Dartmouth varsity nine on its final trip of the season, when it meets Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn.

Dartmouth defeated Amherst last Saturday and although the strength of the Wesleyan team is unknown, it is expected Dartmouth will win on account of the fact that the Middletown team has had very few games this season.

On Wednesday the Dartmouth team will play Brown University at Providence, R. I., in the final game of the Brown-Dartmouth series, in which each team has won one game. On Thursday the Green team will play Holy Cross at Worcester, Mass., which is known to be one of the strongest teams in the east.

Bruce has been playing a fine game lately both at the bat and in the field. He will return home after the trip and will probably play with the P. A. C. in the Street League until called back into the Naval Reserve in which he enlisted last year.

YORK HAS FEW MILD CASES OF SMALL POX

A few cases of smallpox are reported at York and the health officials there are kept busy. The malady is in mild form and the town officials are doing everything to meet it. Vaccination and quarantine have been carried out and at present there are no indications of its spreading.

BOOKLET DESCRIBES MERCHANT MARINE

William M. Norton, of Boardman & Norton, one of many Rexall druggists now doing war duty as special recruiting agents for the United States Shipping Board, has received a fresh supply of literature describing the work of the Shipping Board in training men for the Merchant Marine. One booklet contains excellent views of the steel training ships Calvin Austin and Gov. Dingley, which have their base at Boston and spend most of each week at sea so as to give the apprentices on board their "sea legs." Each of these ships accommodates from 500 to 600 apprentices, all Americans, 21 to 30 years old, who are exempt from draft, and will remain so while in the Merchant service.

The Meade, the "mother" ship of the receiving squadron, with living accommodations for about 1,000, was originally the famous liner City of Berlin, once holder of the trans-Atlantic record both east and west.

THE IRISH IRON WORKS

(From the Kansas City Star)

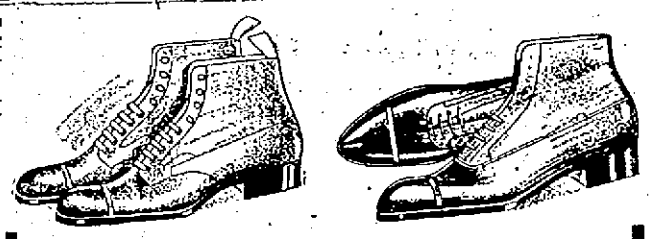

England announces that it will use the iron hand to put down sedition in Ireland which the promise of the iron cross of Germany raised up, no doubt.

Several of the "small" boys in Biddeford, Me., gave a "serenade" to a newly wed couple recently and, as usual, the groom gave them money for the treats. A short time lated the boys returned, bringing an excellent treat for the bride, which was duly presented with the boys' compliments.

A workman who was arrested in Berlin for violating the regulations regarding the purchase of second-hand shoes pleaded in defense that, "as there are now 395 separate regulations governing boots and shoes, a citizen may be excused for violating one of them unawares."

CLASS 1-A MEN BARRED FROM NAVY

Registrants in class 1-A under the selective service regulations who desire to get into the navy will hereafter find the way barred, Maj. Roger Wolcott, in charge of the draft, in a letter sent yesterday to members of local boards made public the following from Provost Marshal-General Crowder.

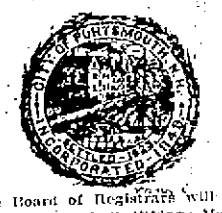

"On account of numerous complaints from governors and draft executives of the states concerning the methods used by naval recruiting officers in recruiting men for the navy or naval reserve, the matter has been taken up with the navy department as a result of which the navy department under date of May 17, sent telegraphic instructions to all navy recruiting stations, a copy of which reads as follows:

" 'Navy recruiting officers will cease circularizing members of Class 1-A regarding enlistment in the navy, neither will they ask local boards for lists of members of any class of registrants.' "

PORTSMOUTH WILL HAVE FINE PARADE

General Orders for Memorial Day Issued by Storer Post--A Battalion of Regulars from the Forts and Another of Marines Will Participate

It is anticipated that Portsmouth will have one of the best processions and program of exercises on Memorial Day for many years. Plans have been carefully made and the general orders of the day have been issued.

The usual route of the parade will be somewhat changed this year. The procession will start from Market square at 2 p. m. and proceed over the following route of march: Congress street to Islington, to Cabot, to Austin, to Richards avenue, to the cemetery. In previous years the procession has marched from Cabot to Middle street and then to Richards avenue, but this cannot be done this year on account of the street repairs on Middle street.

A battalion of Marines from the navy yard consisting of the 1st, 2d and 3d companies, commanded by Captain M. A. Riekers, U. S. M. C., will also participate in the parade, as well as the Naval Band, Frank Zangari, leader. SHIPYARD WORKERS LIVE IN BOATS

Bath, Me., May 25.—With an increase of fully 40 per cent in its population in two years newcomers are taking up their residence in houseboats. They are unable to find rooms for light housekeeping.

Two years ago the population was estimated at less than 10,000. Now it's between 15,000 and 16,000. The gain is due to the revival of shipbuilding.

That section known as the "Tented City," on North street, looks like a little town by itself. The camps are occupied mainly by young people who have come here to work in the shipyards. Each camp contains an electric stove and oven. All are lighted by electricity.

The housing situation is so serious that the attention of Congress has been called to it, and assurances received from the Emergency Fleet Corporation that a portion of the fund authorized by Congress for housing conditions will be allowed for Bath.

BACKACHE KILLS!

Don't make the fatal mistake of neglecting what may seem to be a "simple little backache." There isn't any such thing. It may be the first warning that your kidneys are not working properly, and throwing off the poisons as they should. If this is the case, go after the cause of that backache and do it quickly, or you may find yourself in the grip of an incurable disease.

GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They are prepared in correct quantity and convenient form to take, and are positively guaranteed to give prompt relief, or your money will be refunded. Applicants for enlistment as ordinary seamen need not have had previous sea experience but it is desired if possible to obtain suitable men below the age of twenty-five.

that an upholstery department in a furniture store is only a dirty den occupied by a bewhiskered old fossil who tears the stuffing out of mattresses, shakes it once or twice and sews it in again. Not so, in this place at least. Our upholstery department is managed by a man who has had the best kind of training—years of practical experience. He knows his business and how best to serve you. Not only does his branch of this store renovate, make and clean mattresses. His work includes refinishing, patching, upholstering old and valuable furniture; relining baby carriages, making cushions for canoes, chairs and window seats and even sets of bases for baseball diamonds. And everything is clean!

If you have some particular and out of the ordinary upholstery problem, bring it here. If it can be done we can do it.

DRYDEN GIVES MAINFORD HIS FIRST DEFEAT

Bill Dryden closed his wrestling season at Freemen's Hall on Monday evening by giving Chief Mainford his first defeat of the season in a very decisive match.

Mainford who has disposed of such men as Pinkey Gardner, Mike Noble, John Kilonis twice in an hour and all else that he could touch, is one of the greatest and cleanest men that has appeared here this season. He is not only fast, but sure and what he don't know about arm holds is not worth knowing. He has a great attack and is never lost for action and moves like a cat and falls with the same appearance.

It was the first fall for Dryden in the five minutes of very clever work in which he took after time and Dryden gave but positions but each time the local man's wonderful strength stood him in good stead and he pulled himself free. At first did Mainford work that it looked for a time as though Dryden was showing up and not making his usual effort but Dryden was feeling out the other forms attack. He finally rolled into a full body and head scissors which was fatal.

Dryden came back apparently in good shape for he began to take the offense and the round was very fast. So he had Mainford in a full body that looked impossible to escape from but he rolled free. Dryden played the crowd, in breaking up the other fellow's attack especially his scissors and headlock work, and finally he got a good hold and Mainford after holding for a few minutes rolled over on his back and Dryden was awarded the fall in 45 minutes.

The third fall came at the end of twenty minutes and while it was fast Dryden was on the offensive and despite the efforts of Mainford he got another toehold and the match was over.

After the match Mainford acknowledge that it was his first defeat of the season and that Dryden was the cleverest and strongest man that he had met, but he wanted a return match with the toehold eliminated, but Dryden stated that his farm was taking all of his time and the crowd agreed that it was the end of the season.

Mainford agreed to stay over and wrestle with the toehold barred.

ESTABLISH ZONE POSTAL SYSTEM FOR MAGAZINES

Washington, May 28.—Regulations establishing the zone system of postal rates for newspapers and magazines have been issued by the postmaster-general. That part of periodicals devoted to reading matter after July 1, is assigned a rate of 1 3-4 cents a pound for the first year and 1 1-2 cents thereafter. The portion of periodicals devoted to advertising matter is assigned zone rates running from 1 1-4 cents to 3 1-4 cents the first year.

In 1919 the regulations provide a scale running to 5 1-2 cents, while in the third year the charge is raised to 7 3-4 cents in the furthest zone, and in the fourth it is raised to 10 cents. Intermediate zones take a rate proportionately increasing.

To make effective the discrimination between the weight of reading matter and advertising, the regulations provide that all publishers shall file a copy of every publication marked to show the percentage of each. Publishers are also required to separate publications in mailing in accordance with the zones to which copies are destined.

The separation can be avoided only by the filing of circulation estimates showing the percentage of publications going into the different zones.

The zones created are similar to those established for grading parcel post rates. Beginning July 1, in the first and second zones surrounding the place of publication, the rate on advertising sections of publications will be 1 1-4 cents per pound; in the third, 1 1-2; fourth, 2; fifth, 2 1-4; sixth, 2 1-2; seventh, 3, and eighth, 3 1-4.

Between July 1, 1919, and July 1, 1920, the first and second zone rates will be 1 1-2 cents; third, 2; fourth, 3; fifth, 3 1-2; sixth, 4; seventh, 5, and eighth, 6 1-2.

After July 1, 1920, the scale will run: 1 3-4 in the first and second zones; 2 1-2, third; 3, fourth; 4 3-4, fifth; 5 1-2, sixth; 7, seventh; 7 3-4 eighth.

The final increase in 1921 makes the first and second zone rates 2 cents; third, 3; fourth, 5; fifth, 6; sixth, 7; seventh, 9; eighth, 10.

Special provisions are made for the treatment of sample copies.

Why experiment with unknown or imitation kidney remedies when you have such a good reason to try Doan's? Profit by the test Mr. Entwistle has made for you.

"I had been troubled for a long time with pains in my back, lameness across my kidneys and general kidney disorder," says Mr. Entwistle. "Doan's Kidney Pills, secured at Philbrick's Pharmacy, permanently cured me. I have recommended them to several of my friends and I know that they have proven of benefit in every case."

Over ten years later, Mr. Entwistle said: "I can always say a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills and heartily back up my past recommendation. I have never had occasion to change my high opinion of them."

MY TIRED FEET ACHED FOR "TIZ"

Let your sore, swollen, aching feet spread out in a bath of "Tiz."

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive into that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callousese and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

so great that the supply has not been equal to the demand.

The rooms will be opened as usual on Monday of next week when the June work will be started.

PRISONER IS AMAZED AT SIZE OF ARMY

With the American Army, May 28.—A German lieutenant, a university graduate, speaking both French and English, who was captured several days ago, was taken on his way to a French fortress, along a considerable part of the American lines of communication and through some territory in which we are making big war preparations. Today he said:

"In the first months of the year the German people were told that the war would end this year in June after a big drive. If the German people could see what I have seen in the last two days they would know that the war cannot end this year with a German victory. I believe if the German people could know what America is really doing our army leaders would have trouble, and lots of it.

"The German people and even the officers, have been told how only a few Americans have arrived in France on account of the U-boats and that the American statements that hundreds of thousands are here are all lies. I wonder when they will learn the truth. Poor Germany!"

That it is entirely true that German officers do not believe that Americans are really in the war, is shown by the fact that the first German airman brought down three weeks ago when taken to the American field asked:

"What airplane is that?" When told it was American he replied:

"Oh, no, you are not Americans. You are Englishmen dressed up like Americans."

A German officer, taken prisoner, said that during the raising of the last German war loan all the soldiers and officers who subscribed a thousand marks to the loan received seven days' extra leave. This corroborated other prisoners.

Examination of recent prisoners of the class of 1919 shows a very poor physical standard. For the last three years these boys have not had enough to eat. One of them said:

"I cannot remember the day when I did not go to bed hungry."

Lack of nourishment has hampered development in physique and stamina. Officers of the allies frequently comment on the difference between the new German soldiers and the men who faced them in 1914 and 1915.

There is much interest in the case of a German sergeant who deserted today and came into the American trenches. He will be carefully examined and all his stories checked up to determine whether he is serious or whether he is trying to be a clever spy.

NEW GERMAN OFFENSIVE HAS BEGUN

(By Associated Press)

Germans great offensive on the western front has been resumed with a very brief artillery preparation, two blows were struck by the Germans; one on the line of the Voormezele to Locre and the other in the Aisne sector. In Flanders the Germans have gained virtually nothing but further south the German official statement claims that they have carried the entire ridge of the Chemin des Dames and are now fighting on the Aisne river.

The Germans attack was one the ground taken by the French in their raid of May 20 on the Aisne river and it is in the nature of a line straightening. It has been launched from Laon and the Germans are seeking to save permanent position easily defended which have been occupied by the French.

Evidence that the Supreme commander of the Allies was forwarned of the attack of the Germans is rather evident from the fact that the British forces were opposed to the Germans. This is the first intimation that the British have been stationed far south and it is thought that they were moved for this attack.

The German Crown prince is in command and it indicates that a mighty effort will be made to break the line at this point. The Bavarian Crown prince is in command of the Artois and Picardy sectors and the German Crown prince for reasons of the state will seek to outdo the work of his college further norther.

American troops are close behind the allied lines and are probable in the battle. A recent dispatch states that they were around Rheims.

Attacks were made at various sectors but they were all put down and in some sections the Americans were holding the lines. In the official report heavy bombardment was reported from Campaigney and Montdidier and in this sector there are Americans who were probably engaged.

In coincidence with the beginning of the Germans attack the Italians have launched an offensive near Lake Garda and they have carried several of the heights, and have captured Monsello. Thereare two paralleled streams in front of them and if the Italians carry this section they will threaten to outflank the Austrian line and cause them to move back.

The long distance bombardment of Paris has been resumed today.

Paris, May 27—A battle of extreme violence is raging about Rheims says the official communication, and they have advanced to Pontarcy, where the Franco-British troops were withdrawn in good order and at the same time inflicted great loses upon the enemy.

MEXICO HAS NOT BROKEN WITH CUBA

(By Associated Press)

Havana, Cuba, May 27—The Cuban state department today sent out a cablegram to all of its foreign consuls that Mexican had not broken with Cuba.

Washington, May 27—In a statement issued today by the Cuban legation, it was stated that Mexico had not broken with Cuba, and that the Mexican officials did not consider it a break of friendly relations, when they recalled the Minister to Cuba.

LT. BAER, AMERICAN ACE, IS MISSING

Paris, May 27—Lieutenant Paul H. Baer of Mobile, Ala., an aviator, is posted as missing since May 22. It is hoped he is alive, as he may have been taken prisoner.

Lieutenant Baer is a member of the American Flying Corps, and formerly belonged to the famous Lafayette squadron. He is one of the most brilliant American aviators, and is an ace. He was cited by the French early this month, after bringing down his fifth German machine.

RESUME WORK ON BRIDGE

Although about 150 feet of the new construction at the Hampton harbor bridge was destroyed by fire Saturday morning, Cashman Bros. Co., the contractors on the work, lost no time in resuming operations and more machinery was sent to the bridge Saturday to replace that going down in the wreck and the work of rebuilding pushed on. Michael Cashman who is in charge of the work at the bridge believes the fire will make but a few day's difference in the completion of the job as renewed efforts will be made to rush it along. It will be necessary to employ a diver to get the machinery up from the bottom of the river as the place where it went down is the deepest part.

TEA IS NOT A FOOD

(From the Omaha Bee)

Tea drinkers may look forward with equanimity to one phase of any possible food regulations the future may hold. They will not invite punishment by hoarding away extra supplies of the leaves they love to steep in brewing their beverage. In London this has been decided in court, not with the solemnity that usually marks British judicial procedure, for considerable levity and some real wit enlivened the hearing, but it was finally held that tea is not a food. Avoiding repetition of various obvious arguments, comments and contentions, some pertinent and others impertinent, it may be of interest to follow the court to its conclusion. The accused in the case, which was brought under the foodhoarding act, did not acquire food; he acquired dried leaves; these he did not eat, but merely drank the water he passed over them. The dried leaves contain no sustenance, nor did the water in which they were steeped, therefore, it could not be held the act was one having to do with the hoarding of food. A more or less unregenerate citizen to whom this decision was quoted, commented that neither cain tea properly be considered a drink. The court has not passed on that.

RAILWAY PRESIDENTS TO REMAIN

(From the New York Herald)

Directors and shareholders of the Pennsylvania and of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad will be glad to know that Presidents Samuel Rea and Daniel Willard are to remain with their respective corporations. The operation of those roads will be taken over by the Federal managers to be appointed by the Director General of Railroads and who must have no relations with the companies. But in these great systems, with their widespread interests in other corporations, there is important administrative work quite aside from operation of the lines.

HELP FROM THE CHILDREN

(From the New York Herald)

The shortage of labor due to the war is responsible for letting down the bars a little on child labor. Governor Whitman has signed the Cowee bill, which will permit the employment of children between fourteen and sixteen in mercantile establishments in vacation time—during July and August. It is stipulated that the children must be healthy and must have attended school at least 130 days in the last school year.

The articles of association of the Christian Advent Society of Brimfield, drawn in 1867, were but recently filed in the registry of deeds. Through some inadvertence at the time the papers were drawn these articles were not recorded, as was required under the statute.

The first United States 20-cent coins to be put in circulation in La Crosse, Wis., for more than a quarter of a century were reported by A. A. Mosher, a barber. An unknown customer obtained a hair cut and paid 40 cents for it with two 20-cent pieces which long ago were discontinued by the Government.

Doan's Regulets are recommended by many who say they operate easily without griping and without bad after effects. 30c at all drug stores.

DOCTORS ARE HEROES ON BATTLEFIELD

Somewhere in France, May 28.—One of the unsung heroes of the war is the military surgeon. No man has been harder worked in the tremendous fighting of the past few weeks, and his work has been, in most cases, far from pleasant.

There is not the same romantic stimulus for the medical man there is for the infantry or artillery officer. It is one thing to dash about under fire intent on killing or being killed; it is another thing to dash about under fire and take the same risks while calmly attending to those with wounds from which all other men as they pass avert their heads.

The doctor doesn't ride, but "footslogs" it with his regiment through the same mud, the same wind and rain, and the same perils. His duties are not confined to caring for the ill and injured. He must supervise the sanitation of camps and billets, insure the purity of drinking water, keep a lookout for outbreaks and epidemics, maintain a continuous campaign of inoculations and vaccinations, and fill out a long series of records and army forms.

HOW SOME "LIEUTENANTS" ARE MADE

(From Good Government)

There is one major in Washington who has picked nearly a score of assistants and obtained for them commissions as lieutenants and captains. Eighty per cent of them are either from his home town or from his college. Few of the eighty per cent are experts. It was not necessary in these cases to offer uniforms in exchange for indispensable services—but it is safe to say that if there had been no uniforms connected with the job, these people would not have been offered the places and in most cases, would not have accepted them anyhow. Thus the country would have been saved the spectacle of a dozen or more fellow-townsmen forming a non-combatant officer's club in a Washington office.

THOSE INDIAN SHIP-NAMES

(From the Worcester Telegram)

A Massachusetts town is to be memorialized by naming the first of the "fabricated" ships built by the Emergency Fleet Corporation on Newark Bay, the Agawam. Mrs. Wilson at the White House has selected a number of Indian names for the fabricated ships, and the Agawam is the only one in the list thus far mentioned which sounds familiar to New England ears. It is mentioned that Shawangunk, Shinkshinny, Sinnemahoning and Skaneateles are other chosen names for the ships to be made at the Hog Island yards. Before the christening there should be a shakeup of pennies to decide what names are most representative of American life as it progresses. Hog Island or Shickshinny.

WHAT TO PRAY AND WORK FOR

(From the Portland Press)

FLEET OFFICIALS MEET MAYOR LADD

Talk on Improvements at Freeman's Point; Today May Bring Some Decision.

Representatives of the Emergency Fleet Corporation were in this city on Monday in conference with Mayor Ladd relative to the matter of improvements in connection with the houses to be erected at Freeman's Point. During the meeting the matter of street sewers, water and fire protection was taken up but no action was taken or agreement made.

The water question took up a great part of the time. The city has offered to lay new 8-inch pipe lines for water consumption and hydrant service. It is understood that the government men did not approve of this plan and claimed that an 8-inch pipe line was not large enough to meet the situation and provide the necessary fire protection a 10-inch pipe would be necessary. Should the city change its plans and put in the 10-inch line it will be necessary to dig up the old lines to a point on Congress street.

The fleet representatives proposed a reservoir and a pumping station on the grounds somewhere nearby the plant of the Atlantic Corporation and made a proposition to the city maintaining the same and the corporation to pay a rental for the use of it.

The officials informed the Mayor that the government would purchase water bonds of the city. The matter was at once taken up with the city finance committee and another meeting will be held today when the city officials will meet the New England attorney of the Emergency Fleet who comes here today with full authority to make necessary agreements between the city and the government.

The matter of streets and sewers will likely be finally decided upon today. A half dozen or more officials of the government were present at the meeting on Monday.

PORTSMOUTH SHOULD BE GIVEN AN APPROPRIATION

Local Federal Building Is Badly Congested and Should Be Enlarged.

Building authorizations to meet deficient government housing facilities in 45 cities were asked of Congress Monday by the Treasury Department. The cities in New England to benefit by this and the amounts asked for are Manchester $275,000, Lowell $300,000 and Waterbury $265,000.

If the Federal building at Manchester is said to be congested and an enlargement to the building needed, officials of the government should have declared the conditions such in this city long ago. The Federal building here houses the U. S. Supreme Court, the Customs and Internal Revenue offices for this district, as well as the Postoffice. Owing to war conditions the business of the Internal Revenue office has greatly increased to many times that of normal days before the war and income tax.

It would have been well for the New Hampshire delegation to Congress to have seen conditions here and perhaps Portsmouth would have been included in the list of appropriations.

PORTSMOUTH WELL OVER THE TOP

Goes Way Over Quota in Red Cross Second War Fund Campaign---Final Figures Available by Today

Portsmouth has gone over the top in the Red Cross second war fund campaign, and while the final figures will not be available until today, it was known last evening that at least 16,500 was subscribed in this city alone.

There is still considerable to be heard from and it would not be surpriged if the sum of $20,000 was reached. The quota for this city was only $12,500, with $15,500 for the entire chapter, which includes Rye, North Hampshire, Greenland, Newington and New Castle, Rye alone has done over $3,000.

The total figures for the Navy Yard or the Atlantic corporation were not available last evening, as there are several deductions to be made, allotments to other cities by the men employed in these plants.

The Womens committee made a very fine showing turning in over $4200, and they did a very fine job on their canvass which was very thorough.

As the Portsmouth Chapter is allowed twenty-five percent of the sum collected in this city, it will mean that the local Chapter will have sufficient funds to take care of the large expense of the workroom and the Home Service work, which at times demands much money for relief of the dependents of the enlisted men until their allotments comes.

He will be succeeded by Deputy Sheriff Wilbur B. Shaw who will shortly receive the appointment by Judge Guptill.

He writes that he is making a good recovery under the great care of the Red Cross.

He was injured during the drive in April and at one time he thought his injuries would prove fatal. His letter, which is quite interesting, will be published in a later issue of this paper.

WILL PUT ALL WIRES ACROSS THE RIVER IN THREE CABLES

All wires of the New England Telephone Company crossing the Piscataqua river from this city to Kittery, will be removed from the Portsmouth and Kittery bridge and stretched in cables on the bed of the river between the shores of Maine and New Hampshire.

Three submarine cables will carry the lines, one of which has been in operation for some time. This no doubt is a safety first movement brought about by the conditions which existed last winter when the bridge was threatened several days by the floating ice.
